These rules apply to free online ticket giveaways announced on Sponsor's official social accounts in posts linking to this page. Each giveaway's announcing post ("Announcement") and these rules together govern that giveaway. By entering, you agree to both.

Giveaway announcements

Each Announcement identifies the giveaway; entry start and end dates and times with time zone; free entry method and official account or form; drawing date; number of winners; tickets per winner; event, venue, city, date and time; admission or seating category and material restrictions; approximate retail value per prize and total prize value; and any response or delivery deadline different from the defaults below. These details are available before entries open. Additional posts for the same giveaway do not create additional entry opportunities.

Eligibility

Open to legal residents of the 50 United States and Washington, DC who are at least 18 and have reached the age of majority in their state when entering. Void in US territories, outside those jurisdictions and where prohibited. Sponsor's employees, officers and directors, those of entities administering the giveaway, and their immediate family and household members are ineligible. Immediate family means spouse, parents, children and siblings. Customer status does not affect eligibility or odds.

Free entry and limits

Enter during the published entry period using the free method in the Announcement. A free platform account is needed for DM entry. Any feedback question is optional. No service enrollment, renewal, autopay, referral, follow, tag, share or marketing signup is required.

Limit one entry per person per giveaway across all accounts and methods. Entries do not carry forward. Previous winners may enter later giveaways. Entries must be received by the closing time shown in Sponsor's records. All methods receive equal treatment. Duplicate entries do not improve odds. Automated, fraudulent or impersonated entries may be disqualified. Do not provide utility account numbers, identification documents, bank details or tax identifiers with an entry.

Random selection and notification

On the announced drawing date, Sponsor randomly selects the stated number of potential winners from one pool of eligible entries. Each person may win one prize per giveaway. Odds depend on eligible entries and prizes. If there are fewer eligible entrants than prizes, each may receive one prize; remaining prizes will not be awarded.

Sponsor notifies potential winners through their entry email or DM account. Unless the Announcement specifies otherwise, respond within 48 hours after notification is sent and confirm age, residency and delivery information. If someone is ineligible, cannot be contacted, misses the deadline or declines, Sponsor may randomly select an alternate from remaining eligible entries. Winners are confirmed after verification and acceptance. No payment, marketing consent or sales presentation is required to claim a prize.

Tickets and attendance

Sponsor delivers tickets without claim, processing, handling or delivery fees by electronic transfer before the event, unless the Announcement specifies another method or an earlier deadline. Winners must provide the information reasonably needed for ticket transfer. Attendance requires compliance with the organizer's admission, age, safety and ticket terms, including supervision of minors.

Prizes include only the tickets and benefits expressly listed. Travel, lodging, parking, meals and other unlisted expenses are not included. Winners and guests are responsible for getting to the event at their own expense. Living outside the event's area does not reduce an eligible entrant's odds. A winner who cannot attend the originally announced event may decline the prize; Sponsor may select an alternate.

No cash redemption, resale or transfer is permitted except as allowed by Sponsor and the organizer's ticket terms. Winners may bring guests using the included tickets. If tickets become unavailable or the event is canceled, Sponsor will provide an equal-or-greater-retail-value substitute. If the event is rescheduled and a winner cannot attend, Sponsor will provide an equal-or-greater-value substitute.

Taxes

Winners are responsible for applicable federal, state and local prize taxes. Sponsor may securely request information needed for legally required reporting before delivery. Tax identifiers will not be collected through social media messages.

Privacy and publicity

Sponsor uses entry and winner information to administer the giveaway, verify eligibility, contact winners and deliver prizes under the linked privacy notice. Information may be shared with service providers and ticket issuers as necessary for those purposes, and disclosed as required by law.

Entry does not subscribe you to marketing. If you separately opt in, Sponsor may use your name and email for promotional emails; you may unsubscribe through any marketing email. Declining or withdrawing consent does not affect eligibility, odds or prizes. Email consent does not authorize marketing texts or calls. Promotional use of a winner's photograph or testimonial requires separate permission; declining does not affect the prize.

Winner information

For a winner list, email Sponsor identifying the giveaway within 60 days after its drawing, or any longer period required by law. Sponsor ordinarily provides confirmed winners' first names, last initials, states and prizes. Where applicable law requires fuller winner information, Sponsor will make the required reports and disclosures, which may include full names, addresses, prizes and delivery dates. These administrative disclosures are separate from optional promotional publicity.

Social platforms and event organizers

Giveaways are not sponsored, endorsed, administered by or associated with Facebook, Instagram or other social platforms used to promote them. Entry information is provided to Sponsor. To the extent permitted by law, entrants release those platforms from claims arising from the giveaway. Platform terms continue to apply. Sponsor administers the giveaway; the event organizer operates the event and is not a giveaway administrator unless expressly identified as one in the Announcement.

Fair administration

If fraud, technical failure or circumstances beyond Sponsor's reasonable control prevent fair administration, Sponsor may suspend or modify the affected process only as permitted by law and reasonably necessary, with notice on this page and the Announcement. Where feasible, prizes will be awarded by a fair random drawing from valid entries received. Changes will not impose purchase requirements or favor customers. Updates to these standing rules apply prospectively and do not alter an already-open giveaway except as lawfully permitted under this paragraph. These rules do not waive nonwaivable rights or remedies or exclude liability for fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence.
